Suffered at the Postoffice at Alexandria, Virginia, as second-class matter.

President Harding's visit to at Old historic Pohick Church yesterday in connection with the dedication of a memorial tablet to the six young men from that section of Fairfax who made the supreme sacrifice during the world war grew a national touch to the affair.

The exercises throughout were simple but impressive, and the President made many warm friends as a result of his visit. The little school children, through whose efforts the tablet was erected, will never forget the President and his wife. After the exercises had been concluded the children marched through the church and were reviewed by the President and then the President and Mrs. Harding shook the hand of each child, and that the children were pleased it is expressing it mildly. All of the little tots beamed with contentment on the honor of shaking the hand of the President and his wife. Afterward the members of the congregation and visitors also were received by the President. It was a notable day for old Pohick.

A DAILY THOUGHT

Be on the level. Loyalty is the noblest attribute of man. The man who is on the level, who does not try to undermine his superiors or to over ride his subordinates, is invincible. It is unfortunately true that, in every large organization, there are some few individuals whose minds, instead of being dynamo for the generation of the principles of co-operation, faith and loyalty, are subterranean chambers through which the bats of envy, malice and discord are continually winging their hideous way.

Such unfortunates hate the truth, envy the rightful success of industry and application, and rage at the rewards bestowed upon loyalty and courage. When Hercules dragged the three-headed, serpent-tailed Cerberus from the underworld, the bright light of day seemed to madden him. He foamed at the mouth and wherever the foam fell there grew evil weeds, so poisonous that all who ate thereof died.

The vicious serpent tail of Cerberus continually bit Hercules, but he was proof against his poison. You will be proof against the venom of hatred and envy if you pursue your way protected by truth, loyalty and courage.

FOURTEEN HURT AU AUTO HURLS PLANE INTO BOX

Milwaukee, Wis., May 30.—Fourteen spectators at the automobile races at the state fair park were injured, one critically, late yesterday when an airplane taking part in Al Wilson's "Gare devil" stunt, crashed into a row of boxes near the grandstand. The accident happened just as Wilson was endeavoring to go from a racing automobile to an airplane by means of a rope ladder. The rope ladder thrown down to Wilson from the airplane caught upon the exhaust pipe of the automobile and precipitated the airplane into the boxes. Panic seized the occupants of the boxes.

The presence of mind of Dallas M. Steers, of Chicago, pilot of the airplane, probably saved the lives of the spectators. By clever maneuvering he managed to extricate the airplane and avert it into the open field.

POISON IN FRUITS LEFT ON LAWN

Philadelphia, May 30.—The finding of two bananas and an orange, into which there had been injected a strong solution of potassium, on lawns of West Chester residences has provided the authorities of Delaware county with a new mystery. Each piece of fruit contained sufficient of the deadly poison to kill several persons. It is believed that the fruit was intended for children and the authorities believe that it may have been placed on the lawns by the same persons who a short time ago scattered poisoned meat about, killing many dogs and cats in West Chester. The parents of the children say they knew of no enemies who might have tried to kill the children. The police are working on the theory that both the poisoned meat and the fruit were thrown into the yards by a lunatic who may have a fancied grievance against the families.

New York Girls Prefer Overalls For Work Dress

New York, May 30.—Factory girls who found comfort and utility in overalls and bloomers' costumes during the war are not going back to feminine drills a canvass of factory sections here indicates. Factory girls in bloomers and overalls parade up and down Park avenue and other streets near the manufacturing districts in almost as large numbers as during the war. The girls say they would not think of going back to skirts for work wear. Of fifty girls questioned all but one declared that they had given up skirts as work garments or were in favor of doing so.

HART SUES FOR $1,750,000
New York, May 30.—Charging that his exclusion from the floor of the B. F. Keith vaudeville exchange which books attractions for vaudeville theaters has caused him financial damages of $1,750,000, Max Hart, prominent manager of vaudeville artists, today filed suit under the Sherman antitrust act in the Federal court here demanding triple damages of $5,250,000 and an injunction preventing interference with his business. Hart states in his complaint since last November, when he acted counter to the policy of the organization he now sues, he has been unable to carry on his business of booking vaudeville acts.

DANVILLE WOMAN CAN EAT ANYTHING

Mrs. Searce, After Taking Tanlac Enjoys Things She Had Not Touched in Years

"Since taking Tanlac I can eat anything I want for the first time in fifteen years without suffering afterwards," said Mrs. C. B. Searce, of 165 1-2 Stokes street, Danville. "I had become so weak from the effects of indigestion that I couldn't do my housework and seemed to be getting worse all the time. Nothing I ate agreed with me, and often for days at a time I couldn't retain a thing on my stomach. I was so nervous I couldn't sleep hardly at all, and at times I was so tired, weak and dizzy I could hardly raise my head from my pillow."

"None of my family thought I would ever get over my trouble, but about this time one of my daughters began taking Tanlac, and when I saw how it helped her I made up my mind to try it myself. My system was so badly out of order and I was so weak I couldn't tell Tanlac was helping me until after I started on my third bottle. But after that I got better right along. My appetite is now fine and everything agrees with me so well that my friends are simply astonished at my improvement. I sleep like a child and am always feeling fine. Tanlac is the grandest medicine in the world and I wouldn't think of being without it."

Memorial Day

I have a lover in the fields of France,

Where larks still sing and scarlet poppies wave.

There let him lie—I ask not his return

That my poor grief may tend a lonely grave.

There let him lie, among his comrades all,

In the world's common sepulchre and shrine;

The trysting-place of every nation's heart;

And let the common sorrow hallow mine.

But let me plant beside his resting-place,

Where fleur-de-lis and scarlet poppies nod,

A bit of beauty from his native land—

The yellow glory of our golden-rod.

There Belgium's bloom and Italy's fragrance blend;

There shamrock buds and purple heather grows;

There the fair lilies of the fields of France

Grow side by side with England's beauteous rose.

There, with the whispering maples and the pines,

With cypress black and fragrant laurel bloom,

The evening winds with gentle rapture blend

The breath of wattle and the southern broom.

O ask me not to take my love away—

We should be lonely for the fields of France.
